Based on available information the structure at 714 Oldtown Road, Cumberland, Maryland, is not located within the boundaries of a state listed historic district and does not meet the criteria for individual listing on the Maryland Register. The one and one-half story, two bay-wide house, has one oversized dormer in the side-gable roof and an integral front porch. It constructed of brick, probably veneer, the foundation is covered in formstone. It was constructed in c. 1920.

This house is not known to have any associations with persons or events significant to our past and is thus not eligible under Criteria B or A. It lacks the architectural distinctiveness to qualify it for listing under Criterion C.
